James Douglas Nichols, ) Eastern District of Texas-Defendant. ) Sherman Division)
ORDER

ORDER

In re the Matter of Material Witness,

Jason Allen Tiko.

19 This case arises on the arrest of Jason Allen Tiko (“Tiko”<sup>1</sup>), a Chandler, 20 Arizona resident and purported material witness for James Douglas Nichols, the defendant 21 in the above-captioned Texas case. Tiko was arrested in Phoenix on Tuesday, March 8, 22 2011, as a result of Defendant Nichols’ February 10, 2011 Unopposed Motion to Have 23 Witness Detained pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3144 and subsequent material witness arrest 24 warrant. (Doc. 153 in 4:09cr222(2)<sup>2</sup>) The Unopposed Motion alleges that Tiko “will be <sup>2</sup> Unless otherwise indicated, all docket references herein will be to 4:09cr222(2), the pending case in the Eastern District of Texas-Sherman Division.

1 needed as a [defense trial] witness on February 22, 2011.” (Id. at 1) On February 11, 2011, 2 the Honorable David Folsom, Chief United States District Judge for the Eastern District of 3 Texas-Sherman Division, granted the Motion without opposition and signed an order 4 authorizing the arrest of Tiko who “shall be transferred to this District upon being taken into 5 custody for prompt testimony.” (Doc. 166) Defendant Nichols’ jury trial was set to begin 6 only three days later. (Doc. 115)

7 Because of a material change in circumstances since the material witness arrest 8 warrant was entered, and for the reasons set forth herein, Tiko was ordered released by the 9 undersigned Magistrate Judge on Friday, March 11, 2011, with a bag and baggage hearing 10 set for Monday, March 14, 2011 at 11:00 a.m. to allow adverse counsel time to seek an 11 appeal and stay of the Court’s March 11, 2011 release order. Because no stay was entered, 12 Tiko was released from custody on March 14, 2011, with the single condition that he appear 13 in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas-Sherman Division as 14 required. The Court indicated when Tiko was released that a detailed order would follow.
15 This is that order.

16 I. Background

17 On October 28, 2009, a criminal complaint was filed against Defendant 18 Nichols and another defendant in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of 19 Texas-Sherman Division, charging them with a serious drug trafficking offense. (Doc. 1) 20 Upon his arrest, Defendant Nichols was appointed CJA counsel and subsequently detained 21 pending trial. (Doc. 16) On November 13, 2009, Defendant Nichols and an alleged co-
22 conspirator were indicted for Conspiracy to Possess with Intent to Distribute Heroin 23 Resulting in Death. (Doc. 20) On May 10, 2010, new counsel, Donald Lee Bailey, was 24 appointed for Defendant Nichols. (Doc. 59) After numerous pretrial motions and trial 25 continuances, the trial was reset from November 15, 2010 to February 14, 2011 in Sherman, 26 Texas. (Docs. 35, 66, 71, 115)

27 In anticipation of the February 14, 2011 trial, Defendant Nichols’ Texas
28 counsel filed an Unopposed Motion on February 10, 2011 to have Tiko arrested as a material

1 witness for Nichols' trial as authorized by 18 U.S.C. § 3144. (Doc. 153) Defense counsel
2 represented that "Mr. Titko (sic) is living in a homeless shelter somewhere in the Phoenix, 3 Arizona area and is reported to be an alcoholic by family members." (Id. at 1) Defense 4 counsel claimed under oath that he "has exhausted his means of securing this witness 5 through other means." (Id.) In his attached affidavit to the Motion, defense counsel sets forth 6 some of the facts why he believes Tiko is a material witness in his client's case and avers 7 that "[u]pon contacting Mr. Titko's (sic) mother, Counsel was notified that Mr. Titko (sic) 8 was living in homeless shelters in the Phoenix area and did not have any way of being 9 contacted." (Doc. 153-2 at 1) Representing he was unable to secure Tiko's presence for the 10 trial by subpoena, defense counsel "request[ed] that Mr. Titko (sic) be taken into custody as 11 a material witness pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3144." (Id.) Without standing to do so, the 12 Government, of course, did not oppose the Motion and, at that time, Tiko did not have 13 appointed or retained counsel. Chief Judge Folsom promptly granted the Motion based upon 14 the representations of counsel that Tiko "will be needed as a witness on February 22, 2011."
15 (Doc. 153 at 1)

16 After Tiko's arrest in Phoenix, Tiko, a U.S. citizen, was initialed on Tuesday, 17 March 8, 2011, advised of his rights and why he was arrested, and temporarily detained by 18 the undersigned Magistrate Judge pending status hearings on identity and detention the next 19 day in Phoenix. (Docs. 1-2 in 11-3107M) Because Tiko was unable to obtain adequate 20 representation, AFPD Jane McClellan was appointed to represent him. Anticipating verified 21 information may become necessary in the event a detention hearing was held, a Pretrial 22 Services Report was ordered even though Tiko was not charged with a federal crime.

23 The March 9, 2011 minute entry indicates that "[c]ounsel informed the Court 24 that they have called the prosecuting district for assistance regarding this matter but was 25 unable to reach anyone by the time of the setting of this hearing. The material witness 26 informed the Court that he was available but did not receive notice that he needed to appear 27 in the prosecuting district. The material witness also informed the Court that he does not 28 have the funds to travel[]]" to Sherman, Texas. Again hopeful to receive helpful information

1 from Texas that might have secured Tiko's prompt release, counsel requested the status 2 hearings be reset to the next day, March 10th.

3                 On March 10, 2011, AUSA Vincent Kirby, AFPD Craig Orent covering for 4 Jane McClellan who was unavailable, and the Court conclude that Tiko, even though a 5 material witness and, perhaps, contrary to the express language of Chief Judge Folsom's 6 arrest order, was entitled to a detention hearing consistent with 18 U.S.C. § 3142. A full 7 detention hearing and status hearing on identity was set for Friday, March 11, 2011 at 4:15
8 p.m., allowing more time for attorney Orent to speak with Defendant Nichols' Texas 9 attorney.

10                 In preparation for Tiko's detention hearing, the Court electronically reviewed 11 the Texas file, 4:09cr222(2). In a February 14, 2011 minute entry, discussions were held 12 with between all counsel and Chief Judge Folsom outside the presence of a jury panel 13 regarding, inter alia, Nichols' attorney Don Bailey's expressed "need to have an additional 14 [toxicological] expert besides Dr. Ward . . . but her initial assessment was it could not have 15 been the Heroin that caused the death of " the victim. (Doc. 174) Apparently at that time, 16 AUSA Tracey Batson then orally moved to continue the trial while the jury pool was waiting 17 in the courtroom for the jury selection process to begin. The Court granted the Government's 18 oral motion and continued the trial to April 25, 2011. (Id. at 1; ) In addition to setting expert 19 disclosure deadlines, the Court advised counsel that an April 25, 2011 trial date "will give 20 time for Mr. Bailey's witness the (sic) is in BOP in PA and the witness that is in Arizona."
21 (Id.) The undersigned interprets this statement attributed to the Court by the courtroom
22 deputy clerk as meaning that by continuing the trial, Nichols' attorney would have more time
23 to locate, subpoena or depose the two out-of-district defense witnesses. Chief Judge Folsom 24 issued a detailed order on February 23, 2011, explaining why the trial was continued to April 25 25, 2011. (Doc. 185) Pending for ruling is attorney Frank W. Henderson's Motion to Quash 26 Subpoena and Request for Protective Order regarding Defendant Nichols' subpoena of Mr.
27 Henderson, William Patrick Baca's former attorney in this case, to appear and testify at the 28 trial of Defendant Nichols on behalf of Defendant Nichols. (Doc. 185) Mr. Baca, Defendant

1 Nichols' co-defendant in this case, pled guilty in 2010 and is serving a lengthy prison
 2 sentence with the Bureau of Prisons. (Docs. 54, 88)

3 II. Material Witnesses

4 "In 1984, Congress enacted the present version of the material witness statute 5 found at 18 U.S.C. § 3144.<sup>3</sup>" In re Grand Jury Material Witness Detention, 271 F.Supp.2d 6 1266, 1269 (D.Ore. 2003). The statute permits a witness to be detained "if it appears from 7 an affidavit filed by a party that the testimony of a person is material in a criminal 8 proceeding, and if it is shown that it may become impracticable to secure the presence of the 9 person by subpoena" to wit, by flight. Id. The statute expressly provides that no person shall 10 be detained because of an inability to comply with any condition of release if the testimony 11 of the material witness can adequately be secured by deposition, and further detention is not 12 necessary to prevent a failure of justice. 18 U.S.C. § 3144. The release of a material witness 13 may be delayed for a reasonable period of time, especially when the material witness is in 14 the United States unlawfully, until the material witness' deposition can be taken. United 15 States v. Lai Fa Chen, 214 F.R.D. 578 (N.D.Cal. 2003); Aquilar-Ayala v. Ruiz, 973 F.2d 16 411, 419-420 (5th Cir. 1992) ("undocumented aliens have an overriding liberty interest in 17 not being detained as material witnesses, when the deposition procedure serves as an 18

 19 <sup>3</sup> Title 18 U.S.C. § 3144 provides:

20 If it appears from an affidavit filed by a party that the testimony of a person 21 is material in a criminal proceeding, and if it is shown that it may become 22 impracticable to secure the presence of the person by subpoena, a judicial 23 officer may order the arrest of the person and treat the person in accordance 24 with the provisions of section 3142 of this title. No material witness may be 25 detained because of inability to comply with any condition of release if the 26 testimony of such witness can adequately be secured by deposition, and if 27 further detention is not necessary to prevent a failure of justice. Release of a 28 material witness may be delayed for a reasonable period of time until the deposition of the witness can be taken pursuant to the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

18 U.S.C. § 3144.

1 adequate alternative to prolonged detention.”); United States v. Rivera, 859 F.2d 1204 (4th 2 Cir. 1988).

3           As with any defendant, it is the responsibility of the district court, usually a 4 magistrate judge, to supervise the detention of any material witness held within its 5 jurisdiction in order to eliminate unnecessary detention. Rule 46(h)(1), Fed.R.Crim.P., (“To 6 eliminate unnecessary detention, the court must supervise the detention within the district 7 of any defendants awaiting trial and of any persons held as material witnesses.”) (emphasis 8 added). A material witness, however, who knowingly fails to appear before any federal court 9 as required after his release may be fined or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.
 10 18 U.S.C. § 3146(b)(2) (“if the person was released for appearance as a material witness, a 11 fine under this chapter or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.”).

12           Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 15 and § 3144 provide a party or detained 13 material witness with a mechanism for securing the material witness’ release. Rule 15(a),(b), 14 Fed.R.Crim.P. “A material witness may make a motion requesting such a deposition and the 15 district court has the authority to order the taking of the deposition and thereafter to 16 discharge the detained witness from custody.” Torres-Ruiz v. United States District Court, 17 120 F.3d 933, 935 (9th Cir. 1997) (quoting Aquilar-Ayala v. Ruiz, 973 F.2d 411 (5th Cir.
 18 1992)). The motion must demonstrate that the material witness’ “testimony can adequately 19 be secured by deposition,” and that “further detention is not necessary to prevent a failure 20 of justice.” 18 U.S.C. § 3144. Upon such a showing, the district court must order a material 21 witness’ deposition and prompt release. Rarely will a material witness remain detained until 22 trial, and then only to prevent an injustice, such as, the credibility of a material witness is 23 critical to a defendant’s guilt or innocence. See, e.g., United States v. Guzman-Torres, 2010
 24 WL 3521973, * 3 (S.D.Cal., Sept. 7, 2010) (“With the firm trial date less than three weeks
 25 away, this Court concludes that an order setting depositions at this stage could result in a 26 failure of justice . . . Under the facts of this case, the Court concludes that the testimony of 27 Morales-Sanchez and Bautista-Romero cannot be adequately secured by deposition.”).

28 III. Bail Reform Act

1           Another procedural safeguard against unwarranted detention is § 3144's
2 express invocation of the bail and release provisions set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142. Section 3 3144 directs that "a judicial officer may . . . treat the [detained] person in accordance with 4 the provisions of section 3142 of this title." 18 U.S.C. § 3144. The Bail Reform Act ("Act"), 5 18 U.S.C. §§ 3141-3150, establishes procedures for a judicial officer to order the release or 6 detention of an arrested person. 18 U.S.C. § 3142; United States v. Gentry, 455 F.Supp.2d
7 1018, 1019-1020 (D.Ariz. 2006) (citation omitted). Of course, not every provision of § 3142
8 applies to material witnesses, but some do, and those govern.

9           Section 3142, entitled "Release or detention of a defendant pending trial," 10 provides in part:

11           Upon the appearance before a judicial officer of a person charged with an 12 offense, the judicial officer shall issue an order that, pending trial, the person 13 be--

- 14           (1) released on personal recognizance or upon execution of an unsecured 15 appearance bond, under subsection (b) of this section;
- 16           (2) released on a condition or combination of conditions under subsection (c) 17 of this section;
- 18           (3) temporarily detained to permit revocation of conditional release, 19 deportation, or exclusion under subsection (d) of this section; or
- 20           (4) detained under subsection (e) of this section.

21           18 U.S.C. § 3142(a).

22           In making the determination whether conditions exist that would reasonably 23 assure an arrestee's appearance as required, § 3142(g) requires consideration of four statutory 24 factors: (1) the nature and circumstances of the offense charged; (2) the weight of the 25 evidence against the person; (3) the history and characteristics of the person, including his 26 character, physical and mental condition, family ties, employment, financial resources, length 27 of residence in the community, community ties, past conduct, history relating to drug or 28 alcohol abuse, criminal history, and record concerning appearance at court proceedings; and 29 (4) the nature and seriousness of the danger to any person or community that would be posed 30 by the person's release. 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g). The weight given to each of these factors rests

1 is within the court's discretion. Gentry, 455 F.Supp. at 1020 (citation omitted). The Act, 2 however, mandates release of an arrestee under the "least restrictive" condition or 3 combination of conditions that will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as 4 required. 18 U.S.C. § 3142(c)(B); United States v. Motamed, 767 F.2d 1403, 1405 (9th Cir.
 5 1985). The burden of proof rests with the Government which must establish risk of flight 6 by a preponderance of the evidence, not by the higher standard of clear and convincing 7 evidence. Id. at 1406. Reminding courts of the presumption of innocence and its corollary
 8 right to bail should be denied only for the strongest of reasons, the Ninth Circuit has made 9 plain that "[o]nly in rare circumstances should release be denied," and "[d]oubts regarding 10 the propriety of release should be resolved in favor of the defendant." Id. at 1405, 1407; 11 United States v. Chen, 820 F.Supp. 1205, 1207 (N.D.Cal. 1992). The Act requires release 12 unless no combination of conditions can reasonably assure the appearance of the person and 13 the safety of the community. 18 U.S.C. § 3142. Mindful of these principles, the Court will 14 consider whether Tiko should be released.

15 IV. Discussion

16         The first two factors of § 3142(g) to consider - the nature and circumstances
 17 of the offense charged and the weight of the evidence against Tiko - strongly support Tiko's 18 release. There is no evidence that Tiko has been charged, or will be charged, with any crime 19 in Texas, much less the serious drug trafficking offense resulting in death that was charged 20 and is pending against Defendant. Even if attorney Bailey's information in his affidavit, doc.
 21 153-2, is accurate and reliable, Tiko's alleged presence alone on September 30, 2009 without 22 more does not render Tiko criminally responsible for the victim's death. Moreover, without 23 a grant of immunity by the Government, it is likely Tiko will assert his Fifth Amendment 24 privilege against self-incrimination if required to testify at trial or provide a material witness 25 deposition. The likely assertion of this constitutional privilege is another factor that favors 26 Tiko's immediate release.

27         The third § 3142(g) factor, Tiko's personal history and characteristics, as 28 verified by Pretrial Services, paints a somewhat different picture than Nichols' defense

1 counsel presented in his material witness affidavit attached to his Motion. After speaking
 2 with Tiko's parents, Tom and Pat Titko who live in Chandler, Pretrial Services confirmed 3 that Titko is financially dependent on his parents to pay for his living expenses who have 4 secured an apartment for their son in Mesa, Arizona and paid a year's lease in advance.
 5 (Doc. 11 in 11-3107M) Although Titko has serious substance abuse issues, is currently 6 unemployed, and has a misdemeanor criminal history including a record of failing to appear, 7 Tiko's mother denies that he is homeless and "living in homeless shelters in the Phoenix area 8 and [does] not have any way of being contacted." (attorney Bailey's affidavit) The Court is 9 informed that Tiko may be reached through his parents' home telephone or through his 10 appointed counsel, AFPD Jane L. McClellan (602-382-2700), in the event Nichols' counsel 11 wishes to schedule and fund Tiko's travel to Sherman, Texas for a deposition or trial.<sup>4</sup> The 12 Court is unable to explain the informational differences attributed to Tiko's mother identified 13 by Nichols' counsel in his affidavit and that which was proffered to the Court by Tiko's 14 appointed counsel at the March 11, 2011. This factor slightly favors Tiko's release from 15 custody.

16           The last § 3142(g) factor, the nature and seriousness of the danger to any 17 person or community if Tiko were released, also favors release. While Tiko, age 35, certainly 18 has not been an altar boy during the last six years of his life, his criminal history does not 19 reflect any crimes of violence, charges or convictions, firearms offenses, and his criminal 20 history is mostly petty theft offenses and abuse of substances (alcohol and illicit drugs).

21           Finally, Tiko represented to the Court, through his counsel, that he would 22 cooperate with Eastern District of Texas if ordered to appear at trial or a deposition, 23 conditioned upon his travel and living expenses being paid and provided he receives fair and

25           <sup>4</sup> At the March 11, 2011 release hearing, AFPD Orent requested leave to remain as 26 Tiko's counsel until further order of the Court. (Doc. 8 in 11-3107M) ("[O]ral motion by 27 defense counsel to remain as counsel of record for the material witness until all material 28 witness proceedings have concluded in the prosecuting district. No objection. Motion GRANTED.").

1 reasonable notice, even if only to assert his Fifth Amendment privilege against self-2 incrimination. Indeed, his only condition of release requires Tiko to “appear at all 3 proceedings as required.” (Doc. 9 in 11-3107M)

4 V. Conclusion

5 Considering the Texas trial has been continued to late April, 2011 and may be 6 continued again, all the relevant factors under the Bail Reform Act favor Tiko’s release, and 7 the presence of established authority that Tiko’s deposition may be taken prior to trial 8 without his continued detention, release of Tiko is mandated. 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g); 9 Fed.R.Crim.P. 15(a) (permitting the taking of a prospective witness’ deposition). The Court 10 finds that Tiko must be released from custody with the single condition that he appear at all 11 proceedings as required.

12 Accordingly,

13 IT IS ORDERED that the oral motion of material witness Jason Allen Tiko 14 be released is GRANTED.
